Family life is a wonderful thing. A loving bond between child and parent is precious and lasts for life.

Sadly, for some children their home is not a caring or safe place. There are many different reasons.
Abuse, or neglect, or maybe the parents just can't cope.

These children need to be fostered, sometimes for a short period, sometimes longer, until their future can be sorted out and agreed.
If you can help a child in care, become an SFS
foster carer.

Supported Fostering

that a child needs to help them grow and flourish.
SFS is recruiting carers from a wide range of

look after children, teenagers or a child with a disability we would like to hear from you.

These children are needy, vulnerable and neglected.
But like all children, they have fantastic potential just waiting to be unlocked.

If you have a spare room

WHY DID HE DO IT?

Killer's reason for stabbing a disabled pensioner to death as she sat in her car remains a mystery

VICTIM: Jennifer North

THE family of a disabled woman who died from multiple stab wounds wept in court as the man charged with her murder changed his plea to guilty.

The trial of Scott Riley (26), of Parsonage Leys, Harlow, was due to start next week after he initially denied killing 62-year-old Jennifer North – also known as Macaree – in February of last year.

But when Riley appeared at Chelmsford Crown Court on Tuesday he changed his plea. He was remanded in custody for sentencing on a date yet to be fixed.

Although he will receive a mandatory life term, the judge will also have to fix the period he must serve behind bars before he can be considered for parole.

Prosecutor David Holborn told the court the murder was committed in the course of another crime which, if true, could result in the judge imposing a longer tariff.

Judge Christopher Ball told the court the issue needed to be resolved by close examination and scrutiny of the evidence.

By COURT REPORTER
star@hertssexnews.co.uk

Addressing Riley, he added: "It is important for the ultimate sentence on whether I form the view you committed this crime while engaged in another crime."

Ms North, who had her left leg amputated some years ago, died in hospital after sustaining multiple stab wounds in what police described as a "short but vicious attack" in the early hours of the morning on February 28 last year.

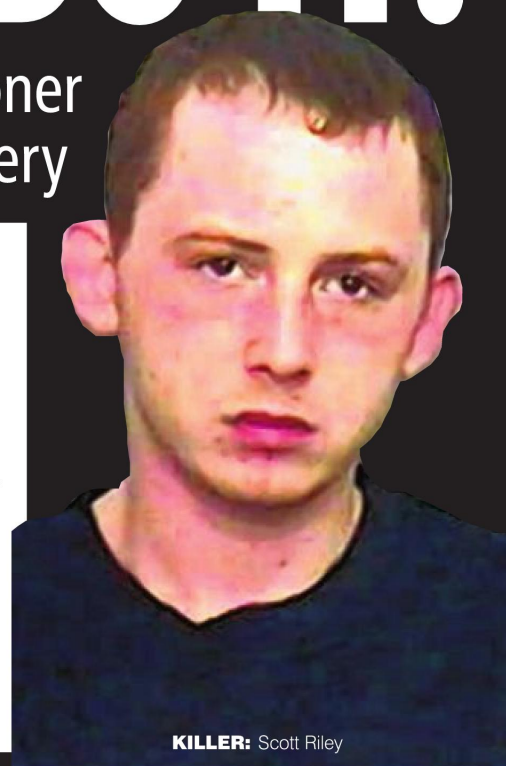

Riley struck as she sat in the driver's seat of her specially-adapted Vauxhall Corsa, which was parked just yards from her flat in Hadley Grange.

Paramedics called to the scene battled to save her but she died at Princess Alexandra Hospital later that day.

A statement released by Ms North's family following her death described her as "kind, gentle and full of life".

Front room is my mother's prison

By CHRIS MOSS

chris.moss@hertssexnews.co.uk

THE son of an 85-year-old disabled woman claims his mother is "living and dying on her settee" because Social Services are neglecting her needs.

Furious Stefan Furman said his house-bound mum Margaret was a prisoner in the front room of her home in Altham Grove, Harlow, because of the lack of disabled facilities.

The helpless pensioner, who has suffered two broken hips, is forced to use a makeshift toilet kept in the same room she sleeps in, while carers have to wash her with a bowl of water as they are not permitted to carry her upstairs to the bathroom.

The situation became so bad over the Christmas period that her front room became infested with fleas, leaving her legs covered in bites.

"It's heartbreaking," said Mr Furman. "My mum is living and dying on her settee."

"In the summertime the smell is unbearable. She's often just left to sit in her own mess between carer visits; it's incredibly undignified."

Although the county council is in full receipt of his mother's pension and benefit entitlements, Mr Furman claims the authority is not spending enough of the money on her care package.

"I want to know where all her money is going," he said. "The council is in full control of her finances so they could go out and buy her all the things she desperately needs, but they won't. It's a disgrace."

Continually frustrated in his efforts to improve his mother's care arrangements, Mr Furman has even sought help from Harlow MP Bill Rammell, who told the Star he had made representations on Mr Furman's behalf.

"I have long held concerns about the standard of care provided by Essex Social Services and I am in constant pressing for improvements in elderly care in Harlow," he added.

This week the county council refused to discuss the details of Mrs Furman's care package.

A spokeswoman told the Star: "We are in regular and ongoing contact with both Mrs Furman and her family about how her needs can best be met and are committed to responding to all queries and requests from them regarding the support being provided."

Ethel's 100th birthday celebration turns out to be a real family affair

ONE of the new town's first residents celebrated her 100th birthday on Tuesday with a tree-planting ceremony in a field opposite her home in Tany's Dell.

Many of Ethel Burchell's 57 children, grandchildren, great-grandchildren and great-great-grandchildren joined her on her landmark day. Her family bought the English oak sapling through Harlow Council's sponsored tree scheme and council chairman Edna Stevens presented it to Mrs Burchell. Grandson John Mann (48) said: "Ethel had a fantastic time; she really enjoyed the day. "She held onto her telegram from the Queen and sat in the corner beaming and meeting family and friends all day."

Ethel and late husband Len moved to Harlow after their home in London's East End was destroyed during the Second World War by a V-1 flying bomb.

Cannabis plants found in business unit

A SECOND cannabis factory has been discovered in Harlow.

More than 150 suspected cannabis plants were found in an disused industrial unit in River Way by bailiffs who had entered the premises on behalf of a landlord on Tuesday.

Sergeant Mark Fraser, of Harlow police, said: "At present we are making enquiries into the previous tenants of the address and we are hoping to secure arrests in the immediate future."

The discovery is the second of its kind in the town in recent weeks. Last month around 450 plants were found when police raided a house in the Newhall area of town.

Generous shoppers stock up foodbank

By DAN PHILLIPS

daniel.phillips@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A CHARITY helping families in times of crisis has thanked Harlow shoppers for donating more than half a tonne of food.

An army of volunteers from Harlow Foodbank made the bumper collection outside Sainsbury's a few days before Christmas.

The foodbank, which is run by the Michael Roberts Charitable Trust, collects storable food and distributes it to people in emergencies.

Director of community services Gary Knott said: "We want to say a big thank you to Sainsbury's and all those people who gave their food or time at the collection.

"It is hard to describe the difference giving a food box makes to parents whose children would otherwise go to bed hungry.

"We would also like to thank everyone who donated money on the day as we collected £106.53 which was an extra bonus to us and will go towards the general work of the foodbank."

One of those who volunteered was Linda Ram. "I was amazed at how generous some people were, literally coming out of the supermarket with several bags full of food for the collection," she said.

"Being a volunteer really opened my eyes too. It was lovely to see lots of children getting involved and walking up to us with a big smile on their face and packs of biscuits or sugar in their arms. They were really pleased to be giving which is very encouraging."

Up to the end of November the scheme had collected nearly 10 tonnes of food which was distributed to more than 500 people who would otherwise have had to face going hungry.

Raffle proceeds donated to cancer care

FOOTBALLER Danny Green, who plays for League Two Dagenham and Redbridge, drew the winning tickets for Harlow Active Retired's raffle which helped to raise £700 for charity.

The group raised almost half the money through the draw which took place just before Christmas.

It was added to money collected from the group's book club, a charity bowling match, donations and other events throughout the year and presented to Marie Curie Cancer Care.

HAR chairman Bob Worthington said: "We're pleased with the amount we managed to raise over a year. A lot of came from just little donations here and there from people."

Help raise funds on hospice winter walk

ANYONE wanting to combine the virtues of raising money for charity while losing a few pounds from around their waist can now sign up for a 5km winter walk.

Fundraisers at St Clare Hospice are organising the event which takes place on Sunday, January 24. As well as raising much-needed cash, this year's walk will celebrate the Hastingwood hospice's 20 years of care to the local community.

Last year more than 300 people registered for the walk and raised £7,500.

Tracy Meale, events fundraiser for the hospice, said: "Whether it's a new year's resolution to get fit or just to exercise the dog after all those Christmas treats, come and join us. As well as having a great time, all those taking part will be contributing to the care we provide.

"We have over £1.7m to raise each year and it's events like this that make our service possible."

The walk starts at 10.30am. On arrival back at the hospice, walkers will be treated to soup, rolls and refreshments. There will also be stalls and a raffle on the day.

Tickets are £10 adults, £5 children (15 years and under) or £27.50 for a family (two adults, two children).

To sign up online visit www.stclarehospice.org.uk or call (01279) 773750.

Charity quiz night

A QUIZ night will be held at Sawbridgeworth Cricket Club next month in aid of the Helen Rollason Cancer Charity.

Entry to the quiz, which takes place on Saturday, February 6t the club's home in Townfields, is £7.50 and includes a ploughmans supper. The start time is 8pm.

Essex County Council

MP slams Tory rival for 'gross hypocrisy' over skills warning

CONSERVATIVE Parliamentary hopeful Robert Halfon has called on the Government to provide easier access to apprenticeships and training in Harlow to help tackle what he describes as "shocking" illiteracy and innumeracy rates in the town. Mr Halfon claims almost a fifth of Harlow's adults do not have functional numeracy while 12 per cent do not have functional literacy.

But his figures, taken from an Office for National Statistics Annual Population Survey in 2005, have been dismissed as "too old" by Harlow MP Bill Rammell.

In a letter to Essex County Council leader Lord Hanningfield, Mr Halfon said there was a skills deficit in the town.

"Sadly the Government now admits that unemployment in Harlow is well above the average in the east of England, despite our rail link to London," he wrote. "Gordon Brown's recession is hitting Harlow hard." He said the Tories would create 100,000 additional apprenticeships and training places every year if they win the General Election.

But Mr Rammell said there are now more 18-24s in work than when Labour came to power in 1997, while 2008 saw the highest education and training rate among 16-18 year-olds.

"I recognise that Harlow faces specific challenges and that is why I have pressed so hard for the new Anglia Ruskin campus which will come to Harlow and open in 2011," he said.

"It is the grossest hypocrisy on earth when Robert Halfon decries a lack of investment yet he and his party are committed to an extra £26bn of cuts.

"I refuse to take lectures from my Tory opponent on vocational education and unemployment when the Tories' record in Government is so devastating and when the figures he uses are six years old."

Town to honour hero's sacrifice

A PERMANENT memorial honouring the memory of a Harlow soldier killed in Afghanistan could soon be unveiled.

Harlow Council and the town's branch of the Royal British Legion have been working to identify a suitable way of commemorating Private Robert Foster since being contacted by his family in August 2009.

Private Foster (19), of Great Plumtree, died alongside two colleagues in August 2007 when an American F-15 fighter jet mistakenly bombed their position following a mix-up over grid references.

The proposals are for a memorial to all local service personnel who have given their lives in conflict since 1945.

A low curved wall fitted with brass plaques setting out the names, ranks and regiments of the dead will be positioned behind the railled area surrounding Netteswell Cross, which itself commemorates those soldiers killed during the two world wars.

Although the council has agreed to the plans in principle, they will first have to be approved at Tuesday's meeting of the environment and community committee.

By CHRIS MOSS

chris.moss@hertssexnews.co.uk

Council leader Andrew Johnson said: "We are keen that service personnel who have given their lives in recent conflicts should have a permanent memorial in recognition of the sacrifice they made."

"Officers have been working with the Royal British Legion to create a dedicated memorial adjacent to Netteswell Cross, which commemorates the fallen of two world wars."

Valerie Fitz-John, secretary of the Harlow branch of the Royal British Legion, added: "Since we were contacted by Private Foster's family this summer we have been working with the council to develop proposals for a memorial."

"We are delighted that the council will be considering these proposals formally and believe the proposed memorial will be a fitting tribute to Private Foster, as well as to others from Harlow who have given their lives in conflicts since 1945."

Blaze hits village church

(photos: Essex County Fire and Rescue Service)

THE congregation of St Mary's Church in Sheering is pulling together following a devastating blaze.

Minister the Rev Brian Surtees vowed church life would continue in the wake of Monday's fire, which started in the south aisle of the 12th-century building and swept through the roof.

Mr Surtees said: "It's too optimistic to say the damage was localised in one area as we don't know how much damage has been done to the roof space. However, many of its features like the organ, which is of extreme value to the community and church, have been preserved."

Firefighters from Harlow and Old Harlow joined crews from Bishop's Stortford, Sawbridgeworth and Leaden Roding after a woman walking her dog raised the alarm when she spotted smoke coming from the roof at around 4.30pm.

Churchwarden Irene Harriss, who was one of the first on the scene, said: "We felt helpless. The glow from the roof was getting brighter and brighter and we thought the whole thing would come down."

Crews remained on the scene until midnight.

Killer changes plea to guilty

Superintendent Tracy Hawkins said: "To this day Scott Riley has not given any reason why he stabbed Jennifer North."

"She was in her car having just returned to her home, a place where she should have been safe. She was a disabled woman who would have been completely incapable of defending herself against such a frenzied attack."

"Her murder has left her family with many unanswered questions and without a much-loved mother, nan and great-nan.

"I am pleased Riley admitted he was responsible for Mrs North's death and I hope this will help her family to begin to move on with their lives. I offer my sincere condolences to them."

Riley was remanded in custody until January 29 for a preliminary hearing to fix a date for sentencing.

It's a great town

SIR, After reading Aran Black's letter I have to say I am truly mystified.

At best his criticisms of Harlow simply perpetuate a number of myths about our town. At worst he provides unthinking ammunition to all those who wish to denigrate Harlow, of which sadly there are plenty. He criticises our education, yet schools like Holy Cross have been shown to be among the best in England.

He says there are no landmarks. Has he been to Parndon Mill, not only picturesque but also one of the most romantic places in Essex? Or even Parndon Nature Reserve, the Town Park and Harlow Common to name just a few wonderful places that ensure Harlow is a special place.

Has he not seen our sculptures that many other places in England would give their right arm to possess? Mr Black totally ignores the great community spirit in the town, organisations like the Civic Society that do so much to preserve Harlow's rich heritage, the charities and voluntary groups that work day and night to help those in need. Voluntary groups like the Harlow Homeless Centre, the Canal Boat Project and St Clare's Hospice are ground-breaking in their own way and have been recognised nationally for the work that they do.

From Glenn Hoddle to Paralympian Ann Wafula Strike, Harlow is also proud of the many famous people that come from the town. And not forgetting its many famous political representatives, ranging from John Perry Watlington in the 19th century, Winston Churchill from 1924-1945 (when Harlow came under the Epping constituency), Leah Manning, Norman Tebbit, Stan Newens, Jerry Hayes and now Bill Rammell.

The truth is that Harlow is a great place to be. We have everything here – a history and heritage, great shops and restaurants and countryside.

Of course there is some unsightly concrete which the new town centre regeneration proposals will largely get rid of. But far from talking Harlow down, Mr Black and any other detractors should get behind those who want to make Harlow an even better place to live.

Robert Halfon, prospective Conservative MP for Harlow

Fly away home

SIR, Aran Black's letter makes me wonder if he is the same Aran Luke Black who stood as a Liberal Democrat candidate for the Great Parndon ward in the 2008 Harlow Council elections.

If so, his letter running down almost every aspect of Harlow and our residents is surprising, as well as being totally incorrect. It would be good to hear whether his views are shared by his Liberal Democrat colleagues.

I was born in Harlow and went to school here. I am bringing up three children in Harlow and am very proud of doing so. Our teachers will not thank Mr Black for his comments about our schools. If he had done some research he would know our schools are improving and doing well.

He claims there are no landmarks, which means he cannot know we recently achieved Sculpture Town status and shows he really should get out more to discover what this town has to offer.

He also can't know of the exciting regeneration that is happening now and will happen soon. Of course many estates look similar because Harlow is just 60 years old and reflects post-war architecture, but many estates have their own distinctive appearance. He clearly doesn't know Harlow influenced new town design across Europe.

He also appears not to know that levels of crime in Essex are second

Reasons why I'm proud of Harlow

SIR, Aran Black asks for answers on a postcard as to why one should be proud of Harlow (Letters, January 7). Unfortunately the reasons are too many to fit on a postcard which would also not suffice to correct the major inaccuracies in his letter.

I was educated in Harlow until the age of 18. I gained 11 GCSEs from Mark Hall School and went on to study A-levels at Harlow College, for which I received three As and one B. In July 2009 I graduated from Queen Mary University of London with a first class degree in French and history. I am currently studying for an MA in history at the same institution.

In such circumstances I struggle to see how the results in Harlow state schools can be "woeful" or that the institutions fail to prepare pupils for life. In terms of academia, it was scientists working at the then STL facility on London Road who discovered the principle of fibre-optics which revolutionised telecommunications.

Travelling regularly between Harlow and London, I am aware of the costs involved. The fares charged are decided by the private train companies so it seems curious to count this against Harlow. One could, under the same logic, berate Exeter for being too far from Birmingham to enable cheap commuting.

Harlow could not realistically have been built nearer London because of Green Belt policy, an attempt to prevent endless urban sprawl.

Would Mr Black suggest that a large area of Epping Forest should have been felled to make room for a new town?

Furthermore, when Harlow was originally constructed, much of the employment was found within the town's boundaries. Whilst it is regrettable that this is no longer the case, the town can hardly be seen as a failure.

I am proud of Harlow for its green spaces and cycle tracks linking up most parts of the town and which in themselves provide attractive scenery. I am also proud that Harlow is a Fairtrade Town, demonstrating its concern to help producers in developing countries.

As for landmarks, there are many to be seen whilst travelling around the town. Whilst Mr Black may not consider the Church Langley water tower to be attractive it is, nevertheless, a landmark. There are likewise numerous sculptures to be seen, as well as historic buildings and sites – the Roman temple site and Harlowbury Chapel to mention just a couple.

Mr Black may consider me a political loyalist, bordering on the irrational. I simply look at the facts of a situation and form my own view rather than accepting the mass media view that Harlow is a dump.

Let us be proud of our town and work together to guide it through the years ahead.

Thomas Newens Park Hill, Harlow

lowest in the country and Harlow is one of the safest towns to live in.

It seems Mr Black misses his home town and its mountain. If it's mountains he wants, why did he ever come to Essex? Perhaps he should visit to our nearby airport where, I am sure he would find some more landmarks... and some great ticket prices too.

Councillor Lee Dangerfield
Berecroft, Harlow

A mind made up

SIR, Back in May I responded to a letter which ran along a similar theme to that of Aran Black. You could just reprint my original letter as it would cover a large chunk of Mr Black's criticisms, but there are some points which I missed.

I am not going to climb onto my rooftop and proclaim Harlow the greatest place on Earth to live, but Mr Black needs to travel a bit more before he can condemn Harlow as spent.

The schools in Harlow are far from woeful. The biggest criticism you could level at them is they are average.

To commute from anywhere is expensive; Harlow does not stand alone in that league.

Every large town looks pretty much like Harlow. Sadly the way towns, particularly new towns, are laid out hasn't changed much since the turn of the 19th century and the arrival of the motor car.

Harlow is fortunate as a new town as it still has small enclaves dotted around reminding us what was here before. There may not be cathedrals but look around – there are landmarks.

If Mr Black looks at the crime rates around the country, Harlow doesn't fare too badly. As usual it's the perception of crime and not the crime itself that seems to brand this town.

I come from Scotland and it was lovely to look out of my front room window and see rolling hills and rugged coastline, but it didn't take me 30 years to realise Essex is flat.

I recently spent a day in the town where I came from and which I left at the age of 11. It was quite a wake-up. It was not the town I remembered, but then nowhere ever is.

Harlow can and will change. It needs some progressive thinking and a direction in which to travel, but Mr Black has made up his mind.

Brian Hopcroft

Time to leave

SIR, I agree Harlow has problems, the biggest one of which is the ignorance and narrow mindedness of some of its residents.

Aran Black has one of the worst attitudes I have come across and I am so glad he is not my neighbour. He shows very little understanding of the sense of community in the town and the hard work and dedication that goes on behind the scenes in the local voluntary sector, community groups and by council staff themselves.

Let's hope after his rant he has seen sense and bought a one-way ticket back to where he came from – not forgetting to pack that enormous chip on his shoulder.

Becci Court
Paddock Mead, Harlow

Model response

SIR, I was interested to read Aran Black's superficial view of our town. If I moved to Belfast I wouldn't know which side of the wall to live on. Meanwhile Harlow residents can continue to view and enjoy the splendid model of the city of Belfast currently on exhibition in the Gibberd Gallery.

Move saved service

SIR, As chair of the management board of Shopmobility Harlow, I write with regard to the letter from Jennifer Steadman ("Shopmobility move will curtail town centre trips," January 7)

It is unfortunate Mrs Steadman did not feel it necessary to speak to either our manager or myself during her visit as we were both present and available. Her comments are totally inaccurate and are insulting to the management board, volunteers and council officers who have worked so hard over the past two years to regenerate a service that was very close to closing.

The 20-year-old cabin was no longer fit for purpose and was declared a health and safety hazard. It is now used as a storage facility and charging area for our scooters.

Far from being in the wrong location, the new offices are 50 yards from the old facility and are the nearest building to the car park. Through the generosity of the council the car park forms part of our lease and there has been absolutely no change to the parking arrangements available to our members.

Mrs Steadman is a very infrequent visitor to Shopmobility and if she had taken the trouble to speak to a member of staff she would have been informed that the scooters are brought to and from the car park for those of our members who can not manage the walk.

The crossing of the road from the car park to the office is exactly the same as in the past. In her letter, Mrs Steadman conveys the picture of someone trying to cross the M11 during the rush hour; this is absolutely not the case. A minority of our members use taxis and I can assure Mrs Steadman that our relocation has had no impact on the traffic flow.

Last year a document was produced explaining why the relocation of our office was necessary. A copy is available to Mrs Steadman on request. As a consequence of our move, we have been included in the Harlow North regeneration plans, therefore assuring the long term future of Shopmobility.

The improvements to the service have been achieved at no additional cost to the taxpayers of Harlow and, in fact, have relieved our council of the rates payable to Essex County Council.

Finally I would like to take this opportunity to thank the volunteers who give so generously of their time and enable members to use our facility for the princely sum of 25p per week.

Gavin McWilliams, chair
Shopmobility Harlow

It's Labour's mess

SIR, I know it's the pantomime season but Derek Fenny is clearly overdosing on the magic potions if he thinks the Conservatives should take the flack for Labour's financial incompetence. (Letters, January 7).

Most reasonable people would not expect the Conservatives, after only 18 months in power, to overnight make good Labour's 50 years of mismanagement. But Harlow residents would expect the recently elected Conservative administration to show the moral courage necessary to tackle the massive black hole in the council's finances bequeathed to them by Labour.

And that is exactly what my Conservative colleagues on Harlow Council are doing. They fully appreciate that some of the difficult decisions they are being forced to take will not always be immediately popular but, unlike Labour, they are not afraid to make those painful and often regrettable decisions.

In the past, Harlow's Labour-run councils taxed too much, spent too much, wasted too much and employed too many pen-pushers at the expense of front line staff. When the Audit Commission lambasted the council as "shambolic", the Labour Party just buried its collective head in the sand. And by doing so they made matters worse for the people of Harlow.

Labour never learns and are condemned to repeating the same old mistakes. Mr Fenny and his Labour chums would have us believe that some fairy godmother will wave her magic wand and make all Harlow's problems disappear.

Sorry, Mr Fenny, but the deeds for which you and your Labour colleagues must shoulder responsibility are following behind you. You may think "oh no they're not" but I can hear the people of Harlow shouting in unison "oh yes they are!" And for that Labour will be rightfully punished in this year's elections.

County councillor Guy Mitchinson Joyners Field, Harlow

Waive one bag rule

SIR, Whilst being broadly in favour of the new recycling arrangements in Harlow, will it, as we are told, help us create a greener more carbon friendly world or is it just to meet a target and save money?

I, like many others, will have to live with and accept the inconvenience of sorting and allocating our rubbish to grey, blue and green bins as our small part in this process.

I appreciate it may be difficult for some Harlow residents in this new world when for so many years we had taken our rubbish and its collection for granted, but it something I am prepared to do and support.

But today I experienced one aspect of the inflexibility of the new arrangements. As a family of five we generated (as could reasonably be expected over the extended holiday period and collection cycle) more non-recyclable rubbish than normal plus, of course, a tree.

Apart from having to store and accumulate my non recyclable waste for 18 days, on collection day the extra bin bags which simply would not fit in my new slim non recycling bin were not taken away. I will now have to take this rubbish to the local recycling centre in my car – with the CO₂ emissions and carbon footprint and time this involves.

I suppose I could store it and spread the collection over the coming weeks in the normal way. I have also had to book a tree collection for later this week. What is the carbon footprint for all these individual arrangements across Harlow?

Given my willingness to be green, a little common sense should prevail since just once a year they could waive the bin plus one bag rule and have a tree collection day as in previous years.

County ill-prepared

SIR, The recent fall of snow shows how ill prepared Essex County Council was to deal with it.

It had no intention of salting or gritting any of the roads on residential estates. On its website it states it only has 65 gritter lorries to cover the whole of Essex.

The fact that failing to salt or grit the through roads made it much harder for the emergency services did not matter to our county councillors as they treat all residents with complete disregard.

They have stopped Harlow from salting their own roads and shopping areas and yet they are not prepared to do it.

D. Ascott
Pittmans Field, Harlow

Prophets of doom

SIR, The ITV news at 6pm last Thursday reported that councils are running out of road salt/grit because no-one could predict this prolonged cold spell.

Funny how the global warming doom-mongers can predict what's going to happen in 20 or 50 years time but not what the weather is going to do next month.

John Wilson
The Hornbeams, Harlow

Farewell to Joe

SIR, I would be grateful if you would allow me to pay a personal tribute to a good and valued friend who has recently passed away.

Joe Barrett was not only a man to admire because of his wide knowledge and literary skills, but also because I felt so privileged to know him and to have him as a friend.

I first met Joe in the early 1970s when we both taught at Harlow College, he as a lecturer in journalism and myself teaching current affairs.

Joe was a consummate journalist in his own right, with extensive experience as a newspaper man including the local press in Harlow. Honest and a stickler for correct English and accuracy, he commanded great respect and affection among his students but he did not suffer fools gladly.

One of his ex-students who now lives and

Truth is the casualty of Tory claims over A&E 'closures'

SIR, In response to Conservative shadow health minister Andrew Lansley's completely false claims that A&E departments are set to close under Labour (Letters, December 31) – claims supported by Robert Halfon – it is vital I set the record straight.

Harlow residents should recognise these claims for what they are, unjustified and deplorable scaremongering of the worst kind.

The claims by Mr Lansley and Mr Halfon are complete lies. The Department of Health has issued no guidance demanding the closure of A&E departments in England, nor have they sought to specify the number of patients which should be treated at individual departments.

Although the Tories are keeping their sources close to their chest, I believe this claim goes back to a paper published in 2006 by the Royal College of Surgeons, a research organisation completely independent of Government. Tory claims on closures have absolutely no credibility.

And don't judge parties by what they say but what they do.

Let's examine the evidence: under Labour, patients wait a maximum 18 weeks for referral or treatment. Under the Tories, patients waited for two years. Under Labour, 149 new hospitals have been built or are in the pipeline. Under the Tories, one hospital was built. Under Labour, the government has stopped pensioners losing their pension when in hospital. Under the Tories, the government took their pension.

I wrote to Mr Lansley two months ago asking if a Tory government would match Labour's guaranteed legal right for patients who suspect they have cancer to see a specialist within two weeks. I have not yet received a response.

In all their drive to do away with centralised targets, I would be interested in hearing what the Tories have to say on this.

Judge gives teen 'one last chance'

A TEENAGER who tried to steal three motorbikes worth £20,000 from a garden shed has escaped jail after being told by a judge he was being given one last chance to put his criminal lifestyle behind him.

Apprentice bricklayer Anthony Moss (19), of Churchfields, Harlow, was given a 12-month detention order suspended for two years after pleading guilty to attempted burglary.

He was also made the subject of an 18 month supervision order, told to carry out 150 hours of unpaid work, complete a thinking skills programme and pay £600 costs.

Rex Bryan, prosecuting at Chelmsford Crown Court, said Moss and an accomplice were interrupted as they were attempting to steal the bikes from a shed in Waltham Abbey.

They ran away but Moss was later identified by his fingerprints which police found at the scene.

James Howard, representing Moss, said in mitigation that at the time of the incident in June last year his client was unemployed and mixing with the wrong people.

He had given the name of his accomplice – described in court as a prolific offender – to police but there had been identification issues.

Moss was now an apprentice working for his uncle and planned to continue working at his father's firm in Manchester in order to make a new start.

Passing sentence, Judge Stephen Spence said that while Moss did not try to steal from a house, his actions had still been distressing for the homeowner.

He accepted that Moss had only gone along to help his accomplice who was the prime mover in the crime, adding: "This is your one and only chance to prove to the court that you have put your criminal past behind you."

North Essex Partnership NHS Foundation Trust

Your double excellent NHS Trust needs you

North Essex Partnership NHS Foundation Trust is looking for local people who want to get more involved in helping us develop existing mental health and social care services, as well as plan new ones, that meet the needs of local residents.

When it comes to local mental health and social care services, we have a lot to be proud of here in North Essex.

- Double Excellent Rating for quality of services and use of resources for the North Essex Partnership NHS Foundation Trust from the Care Quality Commission in October 2009
- The Crystal Centre – a brand new centre of excellence for older adults services in Chelmsford opened by Frank Bruno in November
- Nationally recognised across the NHS for best practice in many service areas
- Plans to build a state-of-the-art children and adolescent mental health unit in Colchester
- Over 7,000 members signed up to our Foundation Trust

Our Council of Governors numbers 44 people and plays a vital role in ensuring that our Trust is responding to the needs and preferences of the local communities we serve across North Essex.

Any member of the Trust aged 16 or over is able to stand as a governor and represent the views of the members from their local community. We are holding new elections for governors in 11 local constituencies in February 2010.

If you care about local NHS services and want to help us make them even better, then why not become a member of our Trust and stand for election as a governor?

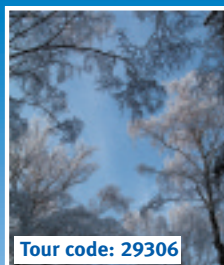

You don't need any specific experience, just a desire to make a difference to your local community and the ability to meet an average commitment of one to two days a month to help make a huge difference to your NHS.

Find out more at www.nepft.nhs.uk or contact the Foundation Trust office about becoming a member or standing as a governor on freephone 0800 169 1625 or email foundationtrust@nepft.nhs.uk

Ted recognises a familiar face in school photo

daniel.phillips@hertsessexnews.co.uk

READER Ted Mawdsley has been in touch the Star to solve a problem of mistaken identity when this picture last appeared in these pages.

The photograph was taken in the 1970s of the ceremony during which a peg was hammered into the ground to mark the spot where Katherines School was to be built.

Mr Mawdsley, of Canons Gate, Harlow, wrote in to correct a previous article where the bearded man wearing a check shirt was identified as PE teacher Mr Stevens. Mr Mawdsley says this is wrong and he should know... because the man in the picture is him!

"I was present at the ceremony in my capacity as a governor of the school which, at that time was temporarily based at Waterhouse Moor School," he said.

"I actually have a copy of that photo which I purchased as a memento of the occasion.

"Also, I think I am right in saying that the name of the headteacher is spelt Gleadall or possibly, Gleadhall."

Another reader, Karl Maddocks, believes the photo was taken in 1975.

He said: "We moved to Katherines in December 1974 and Katherines School then was based at Waterhouse Moor where we occupied one class room. There were approximately 5-10 children of all ages.

"At some point during the summer of 1975 some of us were taken out of classes and taken to a field at the middle of the estate where we saw the first stake hammered into the ground.

"I think I am the one obscured by the man hammering the stake in. The first boy to my left, I believe, is David Clarke and to his left is Douglas Whybrow."

Thanks to other Star readers, we had already established that the girl at the front in the middle earring the spotted top is Kim Woon while the girl in the zigzag dress is Maxine Evenett.

NOSTALGIA UPDATE: Burnt Mill Station

OUR recent articles on the former Burnt Mill rail station continue to stir the memories of readers.

This week we received another picture of the station, which was redeveloped and enlarged to create Harlow Town station in 1960.

This photograph, taken in December 1955 around seven years after the track was nationalised, comes from the collection owned by local historian Ron Bill.

The level crossing and signal box are at the far end of the station towards Bishop's Stortford. Old fashioned gas or oil lamps provide the light and the station's award-winning flower beds can also be seen along the platform.

The three buildings in the background presumably include the station master's house.

Pacemaker for Alf (96)

Harlow man and Army veteran Alf Wilkinson (96) is the oldest person in the country to have a pacemaker fitted. Alf, of Stort Tower, had it fitted in the London Hospital before returning to Harlow to convalesce at Princess Alexandra Hospital.

Glenn given a teddy

England footballer Glenn Hoddle was presented with a huge teddy bear when he dropped in for the opening celebrations of the IBL car accessory store in Wych Elm. The toy was for his daughter Zoë.

Swim aids hungry

Pupils at Brays Grove School sponsored six first-year girls to swim non-stop for an hour for the Ethiopian Appeal Fund. They completed a total of 205 lengths of the school pool, raising £60.

Welcome from Nigerians

Laurie Edwards, of Brays Mead, met two Nigerian diplomats at the Nigerian Independence Day celebrations in London. Mr Edwards, who is president of the Harlow branch of the East African Wildlife Society, chatted with the High Commissioner Mr Kipkulei.

Telescope on a trip to the stars

A HUGE telescope which was blasted into space almost a year ago has discovered five gigantic new planets outside our solar system.

Called exoplanets, they have been named Kepler 4b, 5b, 6b, 7b and 8b after the telescope that first spotted them.

These exoplanets are all hotter than molten lava, which scientists say makes it impossible for them to support life as we know it.

The smallest of the quintet is four times the size of Earth while the largest is considerably bigger than Jupiter – the biggest planet in our solar system.

It has the largest high-resolution camera ever launched into space and will spend three-and-a-half years examining more than 100,000 stars to see if any are being orbited by Earth-like planets.

The Kepler telescope is incredibly powerful and the North American Space Agency (NASA) claims that if it was to focus on a small town on Earth it could even detect the dimming of a porch light as somebody passed in front of it!

They say there is a reason
They say that time will heal
But neither time or reason
Will change the way I feel
For no one knows the heartache that lies beyond my smiles
No one knows how many times I have broken down and cried
I want to tell you something so there won't be any doubt You're so wonderful to think of but so hard to be without.

From all your loving family.

Important notice: Waste & Recycling Collections

During the severe weather waste and recycling collections have been disrupted across the country with many areas suspending collections.

In Harlow every effort has been made in very difficult weather conditions to collect as much waste as possible to avoid causing large scale disruption.

The contractor has worked longer hours and heavy squad and green waste bookings have been rescheduled so all efforts can be put into catching up with the main collections.

Residents should continue to put out their waste on the days shown on the Christmas & New Year schedule. Please bear with us at this time and expect some delays so keep putting your waste out until it is collected.

The Council is sorry for any inconvenience caused.

For the latest news see www.harlow.gov.uk or call (01279) 446655.

IN FINE VOICE: Liz Waugh makes the wassail speech to the spirits for a good harvest

Here we snow a wassailing

FRESH snow created a beautiful backdrop for a wassail at Rivers Orchard in Sawbridgeworth, which was attended by more than 60 people.

Now in its 11th year, the evening organised by site custodians the Rivers Nursery Orchard Group included a bonfire and traditional live folk music.

Guests were treated to cider and apple cakes made with fruit from the orchard, while youngsters had fun banging metal buckets in an ancient custom said to ward off bad spirits and ensure a good harvest.

Group secretary Hazel Mead said: "The snow gave the night a really magical atmosphere. I think it's the first time we've had it since we started."

Government scheme offers insulation grants to homeowners faced with rising winter fuel bills

CAVITY WALL INSULATION NOW FROM ONLY £199

As part of its "Carbon Emissions Reduction Target" (CERT) the Government has instructed fuel suppliers to offer insulation grants to homeowners to reduce energy use in the home. We are already half way through the scheme and to ensure the targets are achieved, generous grants are being offered towards the cost of insulating your home.

SAVE ON HEATING BILLS THIS WINTER

Government figures show that up to half of your heat escapes through un-insulated walls. By insulating your cavity walls and loft you can reduce heat loss and cut your heating bills by up to £200 a year. Your house will warm up more quickly and you won't have to keep the heating on for so long. Not only that, you will be saving energy and helping to protect the environment.

GOVERNMENT BACKING

The Department of the Environment, Food and Rural Affairs (DEFRA) issued this statement, "The proof of the success of cavity wall insulation is the large number of householders who enjoy its trouble-free benefits - 5 million homes already have cavity wall insulation."

QUALITY & SERVICE

Castle Point Insulation (CPI) has been insulating homes for over 30 years. The company has a reputation for providing quality installations and high standards of customer service combined with the latest digital-pen technology. In recognition of this, CPI was recently awarded a contract to insulate homes in 20 regions of the UK under Warm Front, a Government funded scheme.

Insulation grants mean winter warmth for thousands of homeowners

Castle Point Insulation is able to offer grants for insulation to homeowners; you will receive the same high standards of workmanship and service but at a fraction of the normal cost. It is not necessary to change fuel suppliers in order to qualify; the grants are not means tested and they do not have to be repaid.

- All prices for cavity wall insulation are inclusive of a 25 year CIGA Guarantee.
- The Government strongly recommends cavity wall insulation for all suitable existing housing.

LOFT INSULATION

The National Insulation Association states that loft insulation should be topped up to 270mm (10.5"). There are grants available for loft insulation. To top up the loft insulation in a 3 bed semi-detached house, the cost would be from around £184.

CAVITY WALL INSULATION

PRICE GUIDE

Property Type	NIA Guideline Price	Grant Scheme Price from around
Semi Detached House	£500	£199
Semi Detached Bungalow	£450	£239
Detached Bungalow	£625	£239
Detached House	£650	£239

Additional areas over standard m² @£6m². Core Vent (when required) £60.
Other property types, prices available on request. No hidden extras.

WHAT IS CAVITY WALL INSULATION?

A trained technician drills small holes in the outside wall. The insulation material is then pumped into the holes using a specialist machine until the cavity is completely filled. The holes are made good to match the existing wall. Once installed, cavity wall insulation requires no maintenance.

Due to the success of the Sapphire approach to selling homes in Harlow, we have decided to launch an office dedicated to Church Langley. At Sapphire we understand buyer behaviour and we know that buyers will tend to look online for properties as to looking in the high street, so rather than have expensive flashy premises; we invest our money in the marketing of your property online - that's what's most important.

Because our overheads are far lower than other high street estate agents, we can afford to offer lower commission fees. Once the promotional period is over properties can be sold for only 0.7%!

H&B expands sales team to deal with improving market

ESTATE agents Howick & Brooker Partnership, of High Street, Old Harlow, are confident the new year will herald an improving property market and so has increased its property sales team by almost 50 per cent.

It has signed up two local and very experienced property specialists – Ami Sillett and James Howick.

Ami has, for the best part of four years, specialised in Church Langley home sales and will be joining Ben Johnson to increase H&B's already successful Church Langley desk which, from now, will include the highly exciting Newhall development as well.

"I have lived at Church Langley with my family for a number of years and there is hardly a corner or house I haven't visited in my four-year career in this industry," said Ami.

"I love houses, I adore Church Langley and when the opportunity arrived to join the H&B team I jumped at it immediately. They are a great bunch of people and enjoy a fine reputation in our town."

James said of his move: "It was inevitable. After six years and three other estate agencies learning my trade, it was about time I joined my father so he can get out and play some golf!"

James is teaming up with John Lellow to boost the Harlow desk's presence in the town.

Managing director Paul Brooker said he is delighted with his new additions to an already strong team, adding: "These two new colleagues are well known to me and I have followed their careers with much interest, so when the opportunity arrived with an improving housing market ahead of us and the need to increase our property professionals, there was no other choice but to get Ami and James on board."

Founding director Alan Howick said: "I have been here in Harlow with Barbara Brooker since 1974 and it was always in my mind to quietly jog along until retirement.

"But situations and opportunities present themselves and now we are working as hard as we have always been over the past 35 years so we thought it was about time we got the youngsters more involved!"

"It is a very exciting moment for both Barbara and I to see our team expand with such obvious talent joining our already successful agency."

Top marks for ballet school's young stars

REVIEW

NEW YEAR DANCE GALA
Harlow Ballet Association
The Playhouse Studio

THE New Year began in style with two performances from the talented dancers of the Harlow Ballet School.

The programme began with an accomplished, almost robotic piece by Hayley Burns for the senior pupils to music by Muse. This was followed by a Garland Waltz to Shostakovich, which allowed the youngest members to take to the floor, some for the first time.

Tutor Paul Tarling created a piece for six girls which had a feeling of summer, friendship and sadness, while Barbara Murray made a retro piece to Fame, with a riot of neon clothes and legwarmers bringing back memories of the 1980s.

Three of the teachers – Paul Tarling, Claire Rees and Hayley Burns – performed an extended piece called Exogenesis by Barbara Murray, a reflective and sometimes bleak work on the end of humanity. The first half then concluded with three extracts from Coppelia which served as an appetiser for the full-length ballet to be performed at Easter. Sophie Hull was perfect as Swanhilda, impersonating the doll Coppelia, with Stefan Donovan as Doctor Coppelius.

The second half was devoted to the 23rd choreographic competition, with a total of nine entries for the coveted shield.

In a break with tradition, and in the spirit of Strictly Come Dancing, the judges sat together at the evening performance and gave instant feedback and scores to the young choreographers, with the audience being encouraged to cheer and boo where appropriate!

Lydia Ventre's In Paradisum won the shield with a near-perfect score of 39 out of 40, using just two dancers in a classical pas de deux, described by one judge as "pure magic".

Second place went to Charlotte Wightwick for her White Houses which was an accomplished piece of contemporary dance.

The standard of the competition was so high that four pieces tied for third place!

The evening ended with the presentation of the Jack Petchey awards which went to Abbie Taplin and Holly Gregory.

Bouquets were also presented to Lucy Dixon and Su Jones for all their help with costumes which were, as usual, superb.

Elaine Andrews

Visual interpretation of Tennyson's ballad

FOUR contemporary illustrators give their unique interpretations of Lord Tennyson's Victorian ballad The Lady Of Shalott in a new exhibition at The Gallery at Parndon Mill.

Opening tonight (Thursday), Simply Illustration features works by Corinna Dunlea, Riina Driscoll, Amy Rupall and Emmeline Webb which explore the poem's diverse themes of unrequited love, exclusion from life's realities, personal sacrifice and, ultimately, death.

While the poem weaves Arthurian legend and tales of Camelot into 19th century society, the new exhibition of contemporary illustrations catapults the tragic tale – thought to have been partly inspired by a suicide letter depicted in an early Italian Renaissance story – into the 21st century.

Emmeline Webb explained why the ballad held such an appeal for artists. "The Lady of Shalott is just brimming with visual clues which provide illustrators with a wealth of imagery," she said.

"It is also the perfect opportunity to see such a traditional text given a contemporary twist."

Corinna Dunlea added: "My images can be very different depending upon the brief. The Lady of Shalott, like most stories, contains a subtext that gives me the opportunity to start with the drawing and layer other pages within it.

"My hope is to complement the text rather than overpower it so the story conveys emotion and is memorable."

The exhibition runs in The Gallery at Parndon Mill until February 21.

what's on at The Square

TONIGHT: This evening's clutch of new and unsigned bands hoping to win over your ears with youthful exuberance and daring guitar heroics include Progress To, Ivy's Ith and Caretaker. Doors open at 8pm and tickets cost £4 (free admission to members).

FRIDAY: Legendary punk polemicist TV Smith bashes your brains with a selection of gleefully discordant three-chord catharses from both his solo career and previous existence with The Adverts. Support comes from hell-raising punk-folker Jonny One Lung and his whiskey-drenched Billy Braggisms. Doors open at 8pm and tickets cost £6 (£5 members).

SATURDAY: Prepare yourself for another evening of ear-bleedingly angry heavy metal courtesy of those kind-hearted folks at Beautiful Agony. The shouty people on stage tonight include Giants, Ellis' Last Day, Atlantis Breaks The Sky and Secrets Of Us All. Doors open at 8pm, and tickets cost £7 (£6 members).

Kia's polished supermini

WITH a solidly built and spacious cabin having ample storage areas for a demanding family and a raised roof profile that ensures enough room inside for adults as well as children, Kia's Venga is an ideal choice for the UK's less than special roads. But it is still positioned at the lower end of the price scale. IAN DOOLEY takes it for a test drive.

KIA'S desire to take a bigger piece of the burgeoning small car market continues with the arrival of its new Venga model.

Pitched as a B-MPV model, it sits in the growing B sector alongside the likes of Ford's Fiesta and Vauxhall's Corsa, but by offering a raised roof line and seating positions, the Venga is more closely aligned to the mini-MPVs like Vauxhall's Agila, Nissan's Note and Citroen's C3 Picasso.

And it's this lifestyle supermini sector that's viewed by some to offer a considerable amount of potential. Buyers tend to come from all walks of life – from young couples to new families and mature empty nesters, it's easy to see why there's a considerable amount of interest

FACTfile
Kia Venga 1.4 CRDI ISG	PRICE Range from £11,500 to £15,500 approx. On sale Feb 2010.
ENGINE TRANSMISSION CO₂ EMISSIONS PERFORMANCE ECONOMY	1.4-litre turbo diesel unit developing 89bhp 6-speed manual as standard driving front wheels 117g/km 0-62mph 14.5s/top speed 104mph 62.8mpg and effort being expended by manufacturers.

In line with Kia's general approach, the Venga is positioned at the lower end of the price scale. Value for money is a key selling point for the Korean firm and this, plus a seven-year transferable warranty, is something the company hopes will give it the edge over the competition.

At first glance the Venga presents a similar face to the world as the rest of Kia's revised range. The car's stylish nose helps promote an air of quality while the Venga's raised roof profile ensures that there's enough room inside for adults as well as children.

Unusually for a car in this class, considerable effort has gone into making the Venga a good steer. Kia's engineers have spent time pounding the UK's less than special roads in a bid to fine tune the car. Certainly the European specification car offers a solid basis to work from and there are no surprises even when traversing poorly maintained surfaces.

The same thorough approach comes through in the engine department, with Kia offering a 1.4-litre unit in petrol and diesel guise, plus a 1.6 petrol twinned with an auto gearbox. In a departure from the norm, Kia reckons the diesel will prove the more popular and as such it comes with a fuel-saving stop-start feature.

In use, the engine is gutsy and willing, allowing the Venga to tackle long motorway journeys with big-car ease. The 1.4 petrol unit is, predictably, a little quieter and better suited to the cut and thrust of urban motoring.

Performance aside, the Venga offers prospective buyers a solidly built and spacious cabin with enough storage areas for a demanding family. The rear seats easily fold (and slide and recline) to present a flat load bay with the aid of a false floor panel that adds some extra secure storage.

Equipment levels are pretty good, too. The three trim levels offered won't leave you wanting for much more. The entry-level car boasts the like of remote locking, six airbags, air-con and a six-speaker stereo with USB input. Move up a level and you gain alloy wheels, electric mirrors, leather steering wheel, iPod audio input and remote steering wheel audio controls. The flagship Venga adds privacy glass, climate control, a panoramic sunroof and rear electric windows.

The polished nature of the Venga is testament to the progress made by Kia in just a few short years.

A genuine contender in the fiercely competitive supermini class, it offers space, refinement, sound dynamics and a low-cost ownership experience without any hint of a compromise.

Hawks boss axes winger

He added: "Confidence is

Winger Taser Hassan is back from holiday for the Thurrock match.

The Hawks will be without midfielder Jordan Lambert (bro-

Akinawo has recovered from his ankle injury and will be fit.

Defender Elliott Green (pelvic injury) should also be fit.

"He landed on it awkwardly [against Ware] but it was only an impact injury and not a break," said Samuel.

The Hawks boss hopes to land a left-back before next week. He said: "I will be looking at a left-

LUKE HESKETT (s)

Bowler ready for cricket trip to Sri Lanka

Cricket

LUKE Heskett has been selected to join a Loughborough University students' cricket team for a two-week tour of Sri Lanka. The 20-year-old Harlow Cricket Club first team seam bowler is in a party of 16 that will set out for Sri Lanka in late March.

He said: "I'm really looking forward to it. There were 47 that applied to go on the tour so I am really pleased to be on it."

"We will be playing the Sri Lankan district teams on Test grounds in Galle, Colombo, Dambulla. It's an opportunity of a lifetime and I want to improve my cricket skills."

Heskett, from Fir Park, Harlow, broke into Harlow's first team four years ago and is principally a right-arm medium pace bowler.

He is preparing hard for the trip over the next two months. "We will be training in the gym every week at Loughborough," he said. Apart from cricket, Heskett will get the chance to experience a new culture and help those less well off than him. "We will be getting the chance to help coach children who have been affected by the tsunami," he said.

Heskett is looking for kit sponsorship.

Call him on 07894 318756 if you can help.

South England best for Dan

At the same event, Sawbridgeworth schoolgirl Kathrine Foy won the gold medal in the 800m, clocking a new best of 2 mins, 14.9s.

Victory heads to Westby in 2009 last meet for angling club

THE final Stort Valley Angling Society coach outing of the 2009 season was to March in Cambridgeshire.

It has always been a productive venue for the Harlow club at this time of year and so it was again with a total weight of just under 74lbs brought to the bank.

Although the weather was bitterly cold and wintry, 16 anglers made the trip.

Angling

Last year's winner Mick Westby triumphed once again. Fishing the same swim as last year he bagged a weight of exactly 21lbs.

This was more than double the weight of second-placed Steve Beehan, who netted 10lbs 6ozs.

Third place went to Steve Turnbull who weighed in with 6lbs 7ozs.

Bob Groom lifted the prestigious Points Cup for the most consistent angler of the season.

The club's annual 'Fur 'n' Feather' match was held on the local river Stort in the Town Park area.

Twenty-one stalwart members attended what is traditionally a hard, if light-hearted, match to celebrate Christmas.

Single-figure weights are usually the norm at this time of year, but Steve Beehan smashed all records for both the club and the river by netting 13 bream for a breathtaking 48lbs 15ozs. All fish fell to ledged pinkie or bread punch.

Second place went to Ross Deadman, who netted a mixed bag of 8lbs 10z, which included a fine chub of 4lbs 13ozs.

Mick Westby again made the podium in third place, with just under 7lbs of fish.

A year to forget!

Hawks hoping for better 2010 after 12 months of turmoil

THE Hawks will have been pleased to see the back of 2009 after a miserable year which saw them accrue just THREE league wins at Barrows Farm in the 12-month period.

This dire run coincided with relegation from the Ryman premier division in May, while the cash-strapped club remain rooted to the bottom of division one north as the new year threatens more turmoil which could see the club drop down into the Essex Senior League for the first time.

Harlow won only one home game under previous boss Glen Alzapiedi in the Ryman premier division - a 3-0 win over Billericay Town on March 14.

Then with Anthony Anstead in charge they won the opening game of the new Ryman division one north campaign against Great Wakering Rovers.

When Samuel took over he won his first game at the third time of asking, defeating Romford 2-0 to end 2009 on a high note.

Commenting on the sorry statistic of three home league wins in 2009, Samuel said: "That is quite a stat. I was not aware of that. I'm sure that will change.

"We will be off the bottom by the end of March," Samuel, above, vowed. "To be honest I'm looking to win every game."

It has certainly been a horrible year for the Hawks, but there was more drama off the pitch as the season started with the club being served with a winding-up order in the summer.

Hawks chairman Simon Morgan and first team boss Alzapiedi both quit in July and Carol Bothwell, the estranged partner of owner Jeff Bothwell took on the dual roles of chief executive and chairman.

She appointed rookie boss Anstead but he resigned at the end of November after a miserable run of one win in 18 games.

He was partly hampered by a 10-point deduction imposed by the Isthmian League after Hawks were forced into a CVA (Company Voluntary Agreement) to stave off the threat of liquidation.

Mrs Bothwell then turned to former fans' favourite Samuel as the colourful-haired charismatic former player got his first crack at management.

Two more league defeats followed, but Harlow Town then picked up four points from two matches to close the gap on some of their fellow strugglers.

This offers hope for 2010 and as Samuel now looks to keep a settled side, there is optimism in the air despite the gloom of the last 12 months.

Jokers on Hawks as rivals hit title bid

IT may have been the only live sport locally unaffected by the weather at the weekend, but it was 'snow Joke' for Harlow Hawks as their title hopes were dented with a narrow defeat at neighbours Ware on Sunday.

Hawks coach Shab Niaz saw his side cut a 14-point deficit with a fightback in the last quarter, but it was not enough to take the points.

He said: "Effectively the loss means that it is very difficult for us to win the league now as we have to rely on other results going our way and at the same time making sure that we win the rest of our games."

"It's not impossible as all the top teams have to play each other a number of times yet and all have a chance of winning the league, so there is still a lot to play for."

It was Harlow's first game after the festive break as their National Founders Cup game at Kings Lynn on Saturday had been postponed due to the adverse weather conditions outside the venue and concerns for the travelling Hawks contingent.

The Jokers enjoy a sizeable advantage over Hawks and they put this to good effect early on when their 7ft tall centre grabbed some easy scores.

Hawks tried to play at a quick tempo to use their speed to move the ball around to pull the Jokers out of position and create open shots which Mike Freeman and Paul Jessop obliged by knocking down.

Hawks finished the first quarter just 23-20 down.

The second quarter was one in which both teams went on good scoring runs.

Jokers opened up a 10-point lead early on, but Hawks did not panic and remained composed and benefited from an 11-0 run of their own in which Freeman hit eight points.

A Ware player was sin-binned for raising his hands to Freeman. This resulted in Freeman and Jessop knocking down a pair of free throws each.

But the hosts scored four quick points in the last minute to head into the half-time break leading 46-41.

The Hawks offence became a little static in the third quarter as they struggled to get good percentage shots.

Shab Niaz and Jessop hit back-to-back three pointers to try and get some momentum, but it never really materialised as Hawks were out-played and out-scored 22-13 in this quarter.

The Hawks then lost Nick Moss with a foot injury which should see him sidelined for a couple of weeks.

Hawks headed into the final quarter down by 14 points. Coach Niaz tried to rally his troops by demanding tough defence and quick tempo offence.

Leading by example he notched a trademark three-pointer with a strong drive and finish in the land of the Jokers giants.

Freeman continued his good form and top scored with 22 points, while Jessop was perfect from the free throw line.

Mark Haddow also began to dominate as Hawks outscored Jokers 22-14 in the final period, but the side finished six points adrift. HARLOW HAWKS: Freeman (22pts), S. Niaz (20pts), Jessop (20pts), Haddow (8pts), Allan (4pts), Moss (2pts), Z. Niaz, Hinds, Jones, Norkeliunas.

Hold-ups for judo player

THE weather forced the cancellation of trials for the Great Britain judo team for this year's World and European Championships.

It means Harlow player Faith Pitman, below, faces an anxious wait for GB selection but her No.1 ranking should see her through.

Pitman, of Hookfield, was due to compete in the U-63kg women's category at Sheffield last weekend.

The 24-year-old is now focusing her attention on the Judo World Cup in Bulgaria at the end of this month.

"The thing is to keep training hard. Last year I fought in this competition I came seventh in the U-57kg division," she said.

"I am a weight up this year and want to improve on what I did last year. I would hope to get a medal but it will be hard and difficult to predict what will happen."

She was disappointed to miss out on the event in Sheffield, which looks unlikely to be rescheduled. She said: "It's a blow and you always want to show you are worth your place."

"I think this is the first time it has ever happened. People were coming from all over the country and I think they [the British Judo Association] did not want people to be in accidents getting there."

She added: "However, you can only think about things under your control and the weather is not of them."

"The bigger picture is the European Championships and World Championship events later this year."

Pitman is set to compete in the Euros in Austria in April and the World Champs in Japan in September.

Top two battle out draw

Darts

WHITE Admiral and Servo Link battled out a 4-4 draw in the Harlow & District Premier Darts League.

The result left Admiral one point ahead of Servo at the top.

Admiral thought they had taken a 3-0 lead but Ian Mappley's game shot dart fell out of the board before it was retrieved.

Servo's Dicky Foster took the opportunity to shoot out and pull the match back to 2-1.

Servo won the next game to level the match at 2-2.

The four pairs ended 2-2, resulting in the draw.

Young Pretenders gained a bit of ground with an 8-0 win at Harlow Hawks.

Pretenders were helped by a 180 from Peter MacDonald and a 127 outshot from the evergreen Dicky Smith.

One-time leaders Staple Tye Colts lost 3-5 at Tye Green Foxes. Foxes' Graham Lowe notched his third 180 of the season.

Tye Green Whites lost 3-5 at Golden Swift.

An under-strength United Glass lost out 2-6 to Stow Snooker.

Colt Hatch Social went down 2-6 at home to Moot House Arrows.

The match between Moot House and The Crusader was postponed and will be played later in the season.

Osei and out!

Hawks boss axes winger deemed 'bad influence'

AXED: Emmanuel Osei

HAWKS boss Marvin Samuel has released right winger Emmanuel Osei for being a 'bad influence'.

Osei, who was originally signed a year ago by one of Harlow Town's previous managers, Glen Alzapiedi, was shown the exit door this week.

Samuel said: "Emmanuel had a bad attitude and was a bad influence on some of the younger players.

"I noticed he was forming a clique with Reece Dobson, Liam Thomas and Damien Green. His attitude in training was not what we were looking for."

Meanwhile, Samuel has missed out on

By DAVID RIMMER
david.rimmer@hertsessexnews.co.uk signing transfer-listed Boreham Wood player Dean Green, 32. He can play on the wing or striker, but there is not enough cash at Barrows Farm to bring him in.

The player would have taken the number of Greens to three at Harlow Town – after Damien and Elliott – and as any mother will tell you it's always important to have your Greens!

Samuel revealed: "Dean is a quality player and can play on the wing or up front but I could not afford him. He would bring a lot of experience."

Samuel intimated that even if he went for Green, it would not necessarily bring results. "When you leave a club you are sometimes not mentally prepared for a battle and we are in one," stressed Samuel.

Central defender Michael Pelley has left the club due to work commitments. "He does shift work with Sainsbury's and I do not think his work would give him time to be committed to the cause," said Samuel.

"To be honest it would have been hard for him to get in the side. The players that have come in are doing a good job and he would have been a squad player at best."

Samuel is not looking to make wholesale changes but has warned his squad against complacency.

"I will make the odd change but not wholesale ones. If players do not perform, I will look at other players," he said.

The Hawks are due to host third-placed East Thurrock United in the Ryman League, division one north this Saturday.

Earlier this season Harlow gained a creditable 1-1 draw. "East Thurrock traditionally get stronger as the season goes on. I remember at Wingate and Finchley we beat them 4-1 before they beat us in the second game."

Samuel said the lull in fixtures has hit all teams. "We are not the only ones having games getting called off and we are using the time to keep our fitness up."

NO COLD COMFORT: The pitch at Barrows Farm lies buried under a blanket of snow on Saturday, forcing the postponement of the league match against Heybridge Swifts (HSP0620571)

It's snow joke as fixture crisis looms for Town

A FIXTURE pile-up is looming for Hawks as the cash-strapped club battle the elements as well as relegation. The Ryman League division one north club lost two more matches this week due to the freezing conditions.

Harlow Town FC's trip to VCD Athletic in Ryman division one north on Tuesday was called off at 9.30 that morning.

Snow on the pitch meant the ground was too hard and there was no way it would be playable.

No new date has been fixed for the VCD game or the postponed Heybridge game from last Saturday (January 9).

The Hawks are due to host East Thurrock United this Saturday, but this game is also in danger as the frost turns to water and pitches are deemed unplayable.

Harlow were last in action on December 26 in the 1-1 draw at home to Ware.

The club have rearranged two other away matches postponed around the Christmas period.

Harlow will visit Enfield Town on February 3 and go to Great Wakering Rovers on February 9.

In a sport-free weekend, all the football, rugby and hockey matches involving local teams were called off as Harlow sat under a blanket of snow.

Fans' meeting over HTFC future in doubt

A SCHEDULED public meeting in eight days time ((Friday January 22) to discuss the future of cash-strapped Harlow Town FC is in jeopardy.

The Barrows Farm home of the Hawks, thought to be £190,000 in debt, was set to be the venue.

However, Hawks chairman Carol

Bothwell is thought to be unwilling to attend as her estranged husband and majority shareholder Jeff Bothwell will be there. He organised the public meeting so fans can hear his plans for the club and has already booked flights from his Belfast home but says if no club officials attend there will be no point in it.

Long-term Hawks fan Mike Long, who last month expressed a desire to inject £50,000 into the club, was set to attend. "I do not think there will be Harlow Town FC next season. I hope I will be wrong," he warned.

Mrs Bothwell was unavailable.
